Holiday season festivities to begin with Christmas parade

"Christmas by the Bay" will be the theme of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's annual Christmas parade, set for Thursday, Dec. 3, beginning at 7 p.m.

The lighting of the county tree, which was donated by Lee's Christmas Trees, will be by Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor I. Frankiewicz, Jr. Waveland Mayor John Longo and Hancock County Board of Supervisor President James Travirca.

Marching groups, floats, riding groups and many others will be participating in the parade. Candy and trinkets will be showered on those attending. The parade, which will bring Santa Claus to the area riding atop Hugo Favre's stagecoach, will roll from the intersection of Toulme and Main Street, turn right on Second Street to the Bay St. Louis City Hall, turn left on Union Street to Beach Blvd., turn left on Beach Blvd. to Main Street, and proceed down Main Street to the Hancock County Courthouse for the lighting of the county's Christmas

Loca! high school bands and choral groups will be performing in front of the Bay St. Louis City Hall and the Hancock County Cour-

In cooperation with the Bay St. Louis Downtown Merchants Association and the City of Bay St. Louis, the downtown area will be all aglow with Holiday Cheer and decorations.

The Bay St. Louis Downtown Merchants Association will celebrate the beginning of the Christmas season by conducting open house, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 3, 4, and 5, from 10:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Select merchants will have prize drawings and refreshments throughout the three-day festivities. The Bay/Waveland Garden Club will be judging the commercial decorations Friday afternoon, Dec.

Everyone in Hancock County and the surrounding area is invited to join the fun as Santa Claus is welcomed to the area and celebrate the opening of the Christmas season.

Stace McRaney seriously injured in Pearl River County accident

A 19-year-old Pearl River Junior College student and former Bay High football player this week sustained serious head injuries in a Hwy. 11 accident in the Millard community.

Stace McRaney, 19, of Waveland was injured early Monday morning in the two-vehicle accident in Pearl River County.

Forrest General Hospital in Hattiesburg. He remained in the intensive care unit at Forrest General until Wednesday morning when he was moved to a private room. "Stace was unconsicous for about nine hours but ever since then his condition has continued to improve," according to his father Gayle McRaney, a coach at Bay Senior High.

McRaney said while being at the hospital with Stace, there have been accident victims brought into the hospital who did not make it and he believes Stace's recovery to be "the answer to our prayers."

McRaney was a passenger in a 1981 Buick driven by Mark C. Gonzales, 19, of 219 Carre Court, Bay St.

Driver of the other vehicle involved in the accident, a Chevrolet pickup, was Dreus A. Howell, 25, of La Place, La. No charges have been filed at this time but the incident is still under investigation, according to Joe Gazzo, Mississippi State Highway Patrol Arrest warrant issued in Foxworth child case

A John Doe arrest warrant has Orleans, La., hospital. been filed in the disappearance of five-year-old Chrissy Foxworth. Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said District Attorney

He has also requested and received assistance from state authorities in the investigation and said the Federal Bureau of Investigation will assist if the child has been taken across state lines. Peterson became involved in the investigation because the child and her mother once lived in Hancock County with Singley's grandmother, Bernice Singley of Ansley.

Bernice Singley has publicly joined authorities in pleading for the return of her great-granddaughter.

She stated a a press conference last week that she raised Singley and regards Foxworth as her grand-

"How could you go to bed and sleep at night when you don't know where the child's at, or who she's with?," she asked.

Peterson said he has interviewed several people regarding the child's whereabouts and feels she is not in Hancock County now. "That's just my personal feeling about it from what I was told during the investigation," the sheriff said. He also said he feels it is possible the girl has been taken out of Mississippi. Caranna had stated late last week that he was delaying plans to issue the warrant because a third party had been receiving telephone calls that had indicated Foxworth might be returned.

Peterson said the district attorney had hoped that granting a period of amnesty from the kidnapping range for the girl to be brought authorities searching for her.

Caranna said that during the delay, authorities had been given a few more names for use in the investigation.

In addition, Bernice Singley has filed an affidavit in the civil case in Marion County that will eventually determine who gets custody of Foxworth.

Caranna reported she told him she remembered seeing her greatgranddaughter at Dorrie Singley's funeral and said the child had been at the home of a woman named Gail Martin.

Anyone who may have information about the child's whereabouts is asked to call Caranna, the Hancock County Sheriff's Department at 467-5101, or the Highway Patrol at Old Jitney building renovators are facelift for entire community

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Renovations at the Bay Technical Associates facility on Second Street in Bay St. Louis are "99 percent" complete but Mayor Victor J. Franckiewicz Jr. said it is a 100 percent improvement.

The renovations at the old Jitney Jungle building are an outstanding example of actions by a socially responsible high tech company," he

"They took a run down, ugly building and renovated it into one of the most handsome structures in the downtown area," Franckiewiczz ad-

Bay Tech is one of several companies which had its orgins at National Space Technology Laboratories and is essentially a spinoff company that either began from business at NSTL or started by people who left there to begin their own companies, Franckiewicz said,

"I expect we will be seeing more of these companies starting up and this type of growth is the bright spot on our economic future," he said.

What is happening now in the Bay St. Louis area is what started happening 10-15 years ago in Huntsville, Ala.," Franckiewicz added.

Today Huntsville has a strong economy centered on a variety of high tech companies, he said.

"Many of these companies started in aerospace or Defense Department work but have now grown to be successful in the civilian commercial marketplace," Franckiewicz said.

"This is what Bay Tech has done and we need to encourage more companies to do the same," he said. He also said Bay Tech is a "good citizen" company.

Bay Tech President Chuck Ramsey was instrumental in working with the city in assiting Hancock Industries in relocating with the least amount of upheaval, Franckiewicz said.

"These efforts were above and beyond the call of duty and show how willing the company is to lend a helping hand when needed," he said.

Franckiewicz said this effort was not an isolated example and the company has been extremely active in local blood drawings and a recent walkathon

"These things are what makes this type of home-grown company ideal. The company provides job opportunities and is a civic-minded member of the community because its roots are here," he said. Bay Tech currently employs 82 persons, with more than 60 percent of this number being residents of Hancock County.

The company was founded in August 1976 with three workers.

"In just the past 12 months we have hired 40 new persons and expect similiar growth in the coming year," Ramsey said.

"We anticipate adding about 80 more people in the next fiscal year and doubling the number of employees again," he added.

Ramsey said the company is currently spending 10-12 percent of its gross on engineering and research and development as well as 10-12 percent in marketing.

With this much money being spent in these areas, the company really expects business to continue to grow, he said. Fiscal year sales projections are set at $10 million with 28 percent of this amount as international sales. The Bay St. Louis facility specializes in a line of computer equipment which allows the exhange

Man charged in check forgery

BY DENA BISNETTE

'A Jefferson Parish, La., man has been arrested on a Bay St. Louis fugitive warrant on charges of forging a check.

Bay St. Louis Police Detective Chuck James said Wednesday that Joseph West Jr., a candidate for representative in Jefferson Parish, had been arrested Wednesday by Jefferson Parish authorities.

The charges stemmed from a recent incident in which West allegedly ordered about $540 in campaign material from a Bay St. Louis Printing firm.

James said West is accused of paying for the material with a forged check written on a closed ac-

Gasoline prices in Mississippi have had their ups and downs so far in 1987. After seeing the average price of a gallon of unleaded regular gas increasing 4.2 cents between the 4th of July and Labor Day, AAA Mississippi now reports a decrease in the statewide average of about a penny a gallon. Motorists traveling Mississippi roads over this Thanksgiving Day period will find the average price of a gallon of unleaded that they pump themselves to be 98.1 cents. Even with the decrease, this year's price is 17.4 cents more per gallon than last Thanksgiving.

Dividing the state into six zones, AAA found the lowest average price per gallon (for self-serve unleaded regular to be 93.6 cents in the southwestern

Dry weather increases fall logging efforts

Weekly State Crop Report Covering week of Nov. 14-20

MISSISSIPPI STATE— Mississippi's wood mills will be well-stocked with lumber this winter because the dry fall allowed loggers to meet their cutting schedules.

More wood going to the mills on time means more products made, more workers hired and more money staying in the state as manufacturing activity is maintain ed, said Bob Daniels, forest products Mississippi Cooperative Extension

"We're in good shape in Mississippi," Daniels said. "Business is humming right along.'

A wet fall would have delayed logging, and some mills would have been forced to cut in harsher weather to meet needed inventory Because most of Mississippi's 800 wood-using mills are well-stocked for winter manufacturing, they will have enough wood to carry them through periods when winter weather makes logging impossible.

"Those folks at the mills are glad to get the logs in," Daniels said. 'One mill manager told me he now has the most inventory he has ever

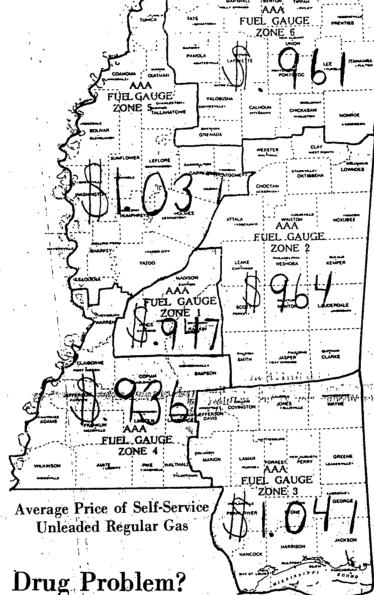

He said a few mills have begun to limit the number of logs they are taking because inventory stocks are adequate to continue manufacturing throughout wintertime.

Timber is a top crop in Mississippi, and thus is an integral part of the state's economy. Last year it was the number one crop in 62 of utilization specialist with the Mississippi's 82 counties. Since 1980, the timber industry has invested $1:5 billion for plants and equipment in the state.

> The state has 16.3 million acres of commercial timberland.

In other agricultural news, state farmers trying to plant winter wheat and winter forages welcomed the rain that fell earlier in the week. "Rainfall this past Monday was in excess of 4 inches over the county," said George Alley, Carroll County agent. "Only minor damage resulted from strong torando-like winds Monday night."

"The rain will also stop wildfires which were a problem in Scott County last weekend," said William O. Goodwin, county agent.

While gasoline supplies remain plentiful, motorists should top off their fuel tanks before venturing far from home, Triple-A suggests. Only 59 percent of the stations surveyed by the motor club will be open for business over the entire four-day period.

The annual Christmas Parade and arrival of Santa on Thursday, Dec. 3 is still on schedule, according to Libby Milner, executive director of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

The parade is sponsored by the chamber, City of Bay St. Louis and Downtown Bay St. Louis Merchants Association.

A news flash just arrived late Tuesday that Santa will arrive in town via a Hugo Favre Stage

In a conversation with Libby on Monday, she reported there still is a need for more participants in the parade.

Marching groups, bands, civic groups, carnival krewes, individuals, etc.

For further information call the Chamber of Commerce office at 467-9048.

We need to give Santa a big welcome this year.

This is the time of year when the American Red Cross' local representatives are preparing for a special party for veterans in the VA Medical Center. Biloxi.

Jeannie Garcia, area Red Cross representative reports there are may items needed by persons in the Veterans Hospital for personal use such as razors, deodorants, shaving cream, etc.

There are also reportedly indigent veterans residing at the Domiciliary who need sweaters and jackets. At the Christmas party for the veterans, which is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 21 this year. Efforts are made by the Red Cross to present a gift to each vet who attends.

At the Medical Center in Bixoli there are a total of 481 veterans currently.

Anyone interested in helping may call Garcia at 467-7609 Monday through Friday, 9 to 11 a.m. at the local Red Cross office in the Old Hancock County Jail building in back of the Hancock County Cour-

Several columns ago we mentioned how we are affected by cigarette smoke.

It is surprising at the number of others who have commented to us about also being affected by cigarette smoke.

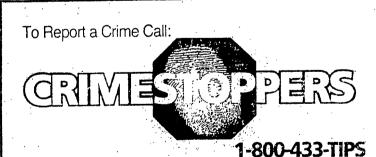

On Tuesday night at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce meeting, Chuck Benvenut ti made a motion to eliminate smoking at meetings of the chamber's board of directors. The motion passed unanimously.

It is good news for us.

Congratulations are in order to the following upon being elected as officers of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber officers elected on Tuesday night were Rich Eagan, president; Mike Witte, vicepresident and Jerry Heitzmann, treasurer.

Chamber membership elected Heitzmann, Carl Guy, Phil Wolfe and David Hubbard as elected directors, re-elected were Eagan and Chuck Benvenutti.

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON-A short distance away, a dog began barking as the presidential candidate stepped up to speak from the porch of the refurbished 1920s house in downtown Jackson that serves as his state campaign headquarters.

"I believe I hear a yellow dog barking back there," quipped Sen. Al Gore of Tennessee, obviously making a play on the old adage about the voting habits of loyal Democrats.

Some 150 Gore backers, gathered outside in a cold wind for the formal opening of the 39-year-old Gore's presidential bid in Mississippi, howled with glee.

"You can be sure of one thing, I'm going to be spending more time in Mississippi than any candidate for president," declared the handsome three-term Tennessee senator, seeking to become the Demorcratic party's youngest presidential nominee since 1900.

With the formal opening of his state campaign headquarters, Gore became the first presidential candidate to put a fulltime staff operation into the field, aimed at getting Mississippi's delegates in the March 8, 1988 Southern "Super Tuesday" preferential primary.

Already, Gore seems to have established the firmest Mississippi grass roots support of any of the six Democratic presidential hopefuls.

This excludes, of course, the natural constituency the Rev. Jesse Jackson has among Mississippi Blacks.

Gore explained that he was not just runnng as a "Southern candidate." He told those who came out for his opening: "I'm running as a national candidate who happens to be from the South."

There's no question, however, that the seeming enthusiasm for Gore's candidacy among much of Misissippi's Democratic officialdom is due to the fact that the tall, dark-haired young senator is regarded as a 'neighbor" from Tennessee.

On his visit here last week, Gore picked up endorsements from Lt. Gov. Brad Dye, and outgoing State Treasurer Bill Cole, and there was Treasurer Marshall Bennett, incoming Atty. Gen. Mike More and incoming State Auditor Pete Johnson. At least 25 members of the Misissippi Legislature had also endorsed Gore's candidacy as of last week's visit of the Tennessee

I met recently with governors,

No committment was made by Gov.-elect Ray Mabus during a private meeting of the two at Mabus' home. Insiders, however, say that Mabus is not going to endorse any presidential candidate, at least not before the March 8 preferential primary.

Interestingly, Mabus got campaign contributions of $10,000 each from the presidential camps of Massachusetts Gov. Mike Dukakis and Rep. Dick Gephardt during the recent general election.

The Gore candidacy reminds one a great deal of the same enthusiasm that developed among Mississippi Democrats back in 1976 when Jimmy Carter, the former Georgia governor, emerged as a Southern possibility for the presidential nomination. It was the eventual nomination of Carter that helped unify the racially split Democratic party in Mississippi.

Now the Mississippi Democrats face another sensitive situation with the candidacy of Jesse Jackson, whom most blacks feel obligated to support, at least on the surface.

A poll in Mississippi conducted the last week of October by Mason-Dixon Research Inc. of Cambridge, Md. had Jackson leading with 35 percent, Gore second with 13 percent, Dukakis a distant third with 7 percent, with 40 percent undecided.

Gore forces contended last week that of the 100 members of the State Democratic Executive Committee, 40 have said they are either supporting Gore, or lean to him. Only six indicated they were committed to other candidates and some 44 said they were undecided.

Despite the sparsity of blacks who showed up the other day for Gore's campaign opening, Brad Chism, the state campaign director for Gore, insisted that there are "a good number" of black Democrats who will back Gore. "They know that Jackson has no chance, and Gore is their next choice," he said.

Governors and mayors will tell you that without municipal bonds,

Proper enforcement could render 603 bumper sticker obsolete

Dear Editor:

I write as a concerned citizen of the State of Mississippi and as a resident in Hancock County.

Of necessity, I must travel State Route 603 from Kiln to Bay St. Louis or Interstate-10.

I do this traveling on almost a daily basis. I am concerned about the traffic, the deaths, the injuries caused by far too many accidents.

I am grateful that our state and other local officials are so concerned that they intend to widen State Route

I do not believe this is the solution to our major difficulty, although an important travel advancement.

I believe the solution is to enforce the laws against speeding and reckless driving that have caused many a near-hit-miss situation in which I have personally been involved as well as the many accidents and senseless deaths that have occurred on State Route 603.

This letter is written so that we can demand from our law enforcement agencies the proper safety needed so that the sticker on bumpers of cars becomes history: 'Pray For Me, I Drive 603.' Sincerely,

Antone J. Lynch, S.T. Kiln

"The ultimate goal of this assistance is an increased level of self-sufficiency for the college," said Downey.

"It will also strengthen the college's capacity to make a substantial contribution to higher education resources of the nation," said Downey.

It was estimated that only 14 planning grants were to be made across the nation under this program...

Planning grants are used to develop a comprehensive development plan (CDP) and an application for a substantial development grant under the Strengthening Institutions

A development grant is used to imcomprehensive development to enable the grantee to strengthen the institution by the end of the project period.

. The award of a planning grant does not commit the Secretary of Education to funding a subsequent application for a development grant.

"PRC enrollment figures have increased so dramatically over the last five years that critical planning problems have arisen" said

The comprehensive development plan will be an institution-wide project. "The CDP will comprehensively address every aspect of the institution's operation and the concerns of every segment of the college community, including the Board of Trustees, students, faculty, staff and the citizens of the distrcit."

Both varsity squads are off to a slow start this season in relation to the win column with the boys and girls off to a 0-4 start; but Coach Michael Ladner attributes lack of experience of both clubs as the most significant factor for the slow starts.

"We are very young and inexperienced on both teams," he said.

ington Cosmos.

"There are only two seniors on the boys team with only one young man returning to this year's squad with prior varsity experience."

"We have started three sophomores in three games and against Lumberton we started four sophomores," Ladner said.

There are no seniors on the girls squad and only four have previous varsity experience

"The girls, like the boys, have a bright future ahead of them if they continue to work," he added.

"I am in no way disappointed or dejected because of the records thus far this season. The kids have put forth a great effort to do everything I have asked them to do.

HOLIDAY COOKING BY MICROWAVE—Hancock County Extension Service Home Economist Darleen Underwood tries out a popcorn popper in a microwave oven donated by the Extension Homemakers Council. The microwave will be used to prepare a holiday dinner, including main courses of ham and turkey, during a special cooking class at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 2, at the Extension Service office behind the old Hancock General Hospital building on Dunbar Avenue. Due to limited seating, preregistration is required and can be obtained by calling 467-5456. A $2 fee will be charged to cover the cost of supplies. Those attending will receive recipes and be able to taste samples of the foods prepared, Underwood said. A sample recipe accompanies this photo. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

One of the greatest delights of Thanksgiving, to my family, is that ever-so-good cold turkey-dressingcranberry sandwich late in the evenint on Thanksgiving Day—that's the only reason for cooking a big turkey dinner in the first place, isn't it?

Oh, there are other reasons, too. I'll agree-there's turkey hash and turkey a la king and turkey this and turkey that-and there's a good turkey gumbo when all that's left is the big bird's carcass and bits and pieces-all delicious!

There are all sorts of tasty ways to say Bye-bye Birdie to the Thanksgiving turkey-aside, of course, from freezing some for future use.

One of my favorites is a turkeyalmond-rice casserole, though at times I have substituted pecans, especially at times like this when the harvest is good! I usually prefer to make my own cream sauce for this dish, adding fresh sauteed mushrooms, but in deference to the many cooks who feel that they've better things to do this weekend or later, I've used canned cream or mushroom soup. October jobless rate increases

JACKSON—The October jobless rate for Misissippi rose to 9.2 percent, according to Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Thomas H.

This rate was three tenth's percentage point above one month ago, when the rate stood at 8.9 percent. This was 1.6 percentage points below the 10.8 percent reported October 1986. Small seasonal decreases in agricultural and increases in nonagricultural employment combined to produce another good economic report.

Place of residence employment for October stood at 1,071,600 in a lab r force of 1,179,900. There were 100 more people employed in October than last month and 20,700 more than October 1986.

Manufacturing establishments provided 227,200 jobs, the highest level since the 227,500 were reported in February and March 1980. Nonmanufacturing businesses provided 650,600 jobs in October.

Manufacturing increased 200 from one month ago and dramatically 3,100 from October 1986.

Nonmanufacturing provided 3,200 more jobs this month than last month and 14,500 more than last year. This monthly employment of 650,600 represents the largest number of jobs ever supported by nonmanufacturing industries.

Wholesale and retail trade continued at high levels and more school personnel returned to their jobs to partially cause this record.

There were 73,014 claims filed in October 1987 as compared to 85,458 during September and 116,142 one year ago. There were 9,914 job openings received in October compared to 10,382 last month and 8,798 one year ago. Of those received 8.849. 8,595, 7,423 were filled by local Employment Service Offices.

Seven added to prep 'outstanding' list

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

Seven area high school football players comprise the final selection list for the 1987 Player-of-the-Week program sponsored by Loiacano's Health Club of Bay St. Louis and Rick's Trophies of Waveland Awards to the players named during the season will be presented at the respective school football awards banquets.

Named at St. Stanislaus is senior Jim Bradley, a linebacker, who is credited with nine unassisted tackles and eight assists.

Named as outstanding Pirates in the season's last two games at Pass Christian High are junior fullback Derrick Benoit and senior lineman Greg Moffett.

Benoit picked up 77 yards and one touchdown rushing from scrimage and an additional 35 yards on a kickoff return.

Moffett, who played both offense: credited with eight tackles in the game for which he was chosen. At Bay High Ricky Whavers was cited for his performance in the Hancock North Central game for 'an outstanding defensive job in the secondary...preventing the Hawks from making several big plays.'

Tiger Chad LaFontaine threw two touchdown passes against St. Stanislaus. He went eight for 17 on pass completions in the game, and did a good job of showing leadership, the judges added.

The Coast Episcopal Raiders won their final game in overtime under the leadership of Walter Rode, a senior, who is credited with seven unassisted tackles and five assists, including three touchdown-saving tackles.

Hancock North Central's Darryl Booker, a senior linebacker, was graded highest on defense from among his teammates with 15 and defense for the 1987 Pirates, was a tackles in the game for which he was

Coast researchers report at fishery conference

OCEAN SPRINGS- Gulf Coast laboratory's Seafood Quality and Research Laboratory researchers presented results from two recently. completed projects to the Tropical and Subtropical Fisheries Technological Conference.

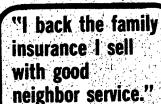

The conference was held jointly with the Atlantic Fisheries Technological Society in Orlando, Fla., during the first week of November.

The changes that occur in the microflora of shell oysters during commercial transport was the subject of a poster session presented by Angela D. Ruple, GCRL seafood technologist.

"This project has given us a better understanding of how handling conditions effect the bacterial levels in oysters," said Mrs. Ruple. Oyster harvesters, shippers and processors in Louisiana and Mississippi participated in the project which was funded by the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium.

Dr. David W. Cook, head of the Technology Program, presented results of a national study on a proposed drained liquid standard for oysters to the conference.

Here's one of the most fascinating football stories of all-time. Perhaps you know it, perhaps you don't. Back in 1942. Boston College was the number one team in the country. They were undefeated going into the last game with Holy Cross. They were heavily favored, and made reservations to hold a victory celebration after the game at a place called the Coconut Grove. However, in one of the greatest upsets in football history, Holy Cross not only beat B.C. but they beat them by the unbelievable score of 55-12. The crushed Boston College officials cancelled the "Victory" party. Then, that night the Coconut Grove burned in one of the worst disasters in history with 492 people losing their lives. The Boston College football players all might have been killed except for the fact that they lost a football game that afternoon. Fate plays strange tricks, doesn't

Did you know in the old days of football, coaches didn't want their players to wear numbers on their uniforms. They thought it would be better if everybody—opponents and fans—were confused about who was carrying the ball. The rule requiring teams to wear numbers on the back and front of their jerseys was not passed until 1937.

SEAMAN RECRUIT John L. Kergosien of Bay St. Louis has completed recruit training at the U.S. Navy's Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla. During an eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields. Kergosien's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in physical education and hygiene. He is a 1985 St. Stanislaus High School graduate and attended Ole Miss before joining the Navy Reserve in August 1987. He is the son of Ames Kergosien and Rosalie Kergosien, both of Bay St. Louis.

Military Mention

LT DEGEORGE

Marine Second Lieutenant Bradley T. DeGeorge, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. DeGeorge of 500 Ponce de Leon Blvd., Pass Christian, was graduated from The Basic School.

While attending The Basic School, located at the Marine Corps Development and Education Command, Quantico, Va., DeGeorge was prepared, as a newly-commissioned officer, for assignment to the Fleet Marine Force and given the responsibility of a rifle platoon commander.

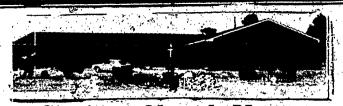

The 26-week course includes instruction on land navigation, marksmanship, tactics, military law, personnel administration, Marine Corps history and traditions, communications and the techniques of military instruction.

DeGeorge was also taught leadership by example and the importance of teamwork. He was also required to participate in a demanding physical conditioning program.

A 1981 graduate of St. Stanislaus High School, Bay St. Louis, and a 1987 graduate of Duke University, Kurham, N.C. with a bachelor of arts degree, he joined the Marine Corps in May 1987.

Monid You Belleve...

Atlantic City was the first boardwalk in the world, built over 100 years ago in the sleepy little seaside town. It soon became famous in songs, movies and postcards throughout the country. Newspaper pictures showed celebrities strolling on the broad, busy thoroughfare or riding in the famous basket carts. The small New Jersey resort town soon became one of the best-known places in the world, and became one of the first vacation capitals in America.

Coast Episcopal Schools name board of trustees

Coast Episcopal Schools celebrated the induction and blessing of the newly elected Board of Directors of Coast Episcopal Schools at a service recently held at Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian.

The service was conducted by Bishop Duncan Gray, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Mississippi, and Reverend Bronson Bryant, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church.

Members of the Board of Directors are Mrs. Anita. Clarkson of Ocean Springs; Reverend Jack Biggers, Mrs. Judy Guice and Mrs. Patti Golden, all of Biloxi; Reverend Bronson Bryant, Dr. Kent Andrews, Mrs. Julie Westervelt, Mrs. Betsy Grant, Reilly Stonecipher and Dr. Dwight H. Short, all of Pass Christian; Reverend Charles Johnson, Mrs. Betty Benvenutti, Dan Mortimer and Calvin Smith, all of Bay

St. Louis, and Mrs. Patti Hourin of Diamondhead.

Dr. Short serves as president of the board.

In his remarks during the service, Bishop Gray praised the board members for their dedication to the young people of the Coast community and thanked them for sharing in the heavy responsibility of guiding the school in its future growth.

Severe storms researcher to be featured on ETV

A University of Mississippi researcher trying to unlock the secrets of thunderstorms and lighning will be featured in a science program to be aired nationally on public television Wednesday, Dec. 9.

The scientist is Dr. Thomas Marshall, Ole Miss associate professor of physics and astronomy. His work at the Langmuir Laboratory for Atmospheric Research near Socorro, N.M., this past summer will be
